

Incident #: 94326906

Charge: Aggravated Robbery

Location: 9750 Windwater

On June 18, 2006, the complainant heard a knock at her front door and she observed the pictured male standing at her front door. The complainant did not recognize the male, so she did not answer the door. The complainant observed the male walking away from her front door. As the complainant was returning to her room, she heard the blinds in her spare bedroom being raised.

The complainant grabbed her cellphone and ran into the bathroom, locking herself inside. The complainant called her father, who lived in the same apartment complex. The complainant then called 911, who informed her to remain in the bathroom and that officers were enroute. The complainant's father ran to his daughter's apartment. The complainant's father arrived and began pounding on the doors in an attempt to locate his daughter.

The complainant's father ran to the side of the apartment and observed that a bedroom window and blinds had been raised. The complainant's father yelled into the room, but nobody responded. The complainant's father ran back to the patio door and again began pounding on the door. When the complainant's father did not receive any form of response from inside the apartment, he again ran back to the side of the apartment.

The complainant's father observed two (2) black males exiting the open window of his daughter's apartment. The complainant's father yelled out, in an attempt to scare the males away. The two (2) unknown males began running away from the complainant's father, when one (1) of the males fired a handgun at the complainant's father, striking him in the abdomen. The complainant's father was not able to see the faces of the males, due to the darkness. The complainant helped compose the forensic sketch of the male at her front door.
